MR. HAWTHORNE'S EXPEDITION.

We published yesterday the news brought by the mail-steamer Pharos from New York of an expedition of novelists and writers under the auspices of Julian Hawthorne, about to start from Philadelphia, for the purpose of studying South American scenery, habits, races, and historical records. Many of the names of these new Argonauts are unknown to us, but the people of Buenos Ayres will give a cordial welcome to Max O. Rell and Paul Du Chaillu, who are of the number, as well as to the distinguished head of the expedition. Let us hope, too, that Mark Twain and Joaquin Miller may join the party.

It is the first time that any body of literary men comes to visit South America, although we have seen numerous scientific expeditions, notably that of Professor Agassiz and his staff in 1866. And yet there is hardly any portion of the world that offers a richer or more extensive hunting-field to the professional man of letters. Joaquin Miller, author of the Songs of the Sierras, would find new inspiration in the majestic Cordilleras, the cities of the Incas, or the cataracts of Yguazu and Guayra. Paul du Chaillu might pay a visit to the Brazilian forests, and study the habits of the Coroados or the fauna and flora of territories heretofore untrodden by the white man. Max Rell would depict life in the Pampas and in the cities.

There is only one danger in an expedition of this sort, namely that the gentlemen might quarrel. Poets and men of letters are the reverse of scientific men; they are often ill-tempered:

"Genus irritabile vatum."

Look at the animosity between Dickens and Thackeray, between Froude and Freeman, between Carlyle and his contemporaries. Are we not then justified in shuddering at the idea of a dozen or more men of letters shut up together for months aboard the sailing-yacht Sargasso?

In fact we should be much more pleased if these gentlemen were to come as ordinary passengers aboard the new American line of mail-steamers, not all at once, but in two, or three parties, making the city of Buenos Ayres their rendezvous. We might suggest to the various managers of railways and steamboats the propriety of offering our distinguished guests free passes by land and water. Doubtless the British community will be glad also to offer them home comforts during their stay. This is what the railway-men, steamboat-men and general public of Montreal did on the occasion of the visit of the British Association in 1884. Our countrymen in this part of the world are justly reputed for hospitality, and we are sure they will not allow some of the most eminent writers of the day to remain in an ordinary Caravanserai.

MAILS FROM CHILE.

Valparaiso, Nov. 5th.

The Chilian Times says:—

Impatience is once again being manifested with respect to the financial measure. The Bill, as our readers are aware, passed the Deputies some weeks ago and was sent up to the Senate. The reception accorded to the measure by this branch of the Legislature was of such a nature as to lead everybody to believe that the Bill would meet with quick dispatch. It was ordered to be printed for distribution among honourable senators, and it was agreed that this distribution should be considered a first reading. All this was done, and for a while the course of the Bill was even and smooth enough, but when it came up for a final reading unexpected difficulties from unexpected quarters cropped up. It seemed to outsiders just as if the longer honourable senators studied the measure, the greater was the difficulty they experienced in comprehending its aim and its provisions. The explanations given by the Minister of Finance, which were substantially the same as those which he had given in the House, and which completely convinced and satisfied that assembly, failed to remove the doubts of certain honorable senators, and the Bill was referred to a special committee. The fact that Senator Ross was on this committee induced most people to hope and believe that the Bill would be spared delay and mutilation. A fortnight, however, has elapsed since the Bill was referred to the committee, and no report has been made."

Mr. Joseph Sothers, a well known and much respected resident of Valparaiso, died on Monday last at the Grand Hotel, Viña del Mar, at the advanced age of 77. Mr. Sothers, who had been 56 years on this coast, was agent for the Coquimbo, Carrizal, Tongoi and Cerro Blanco "ferrocarril" companies and head of the "Compañia Exploradora de Caracoles." His funeral took place on Wednesday and was attended by the leading English and Chilean merchants of this port.

The Western Courier has the following:—

"There are quite a number of people here who insist upon the truth of the oft-denied triple alliance between Peru, Bolivia and Argentine. It is curious that over the Andes the same suspicion exists against Chile and Brazil and it is very evident that there is a strong feeling of mutual distrust. Here it is only the second rate papers that publish alarmist prognostications, but over the hills the most important journals do not hesitate to accuse Chile of entering into an alliance with Brazil having war for its "raison d'etre," and it is questionable whether this is more ridiculous or dangerous, calculated as it is to inflame the pasions of these excitable semi-Latin races, and induce a bellicose feeling. The other day we had an Argentine field officer, who ought to have known better, addressing inflammatory speeches to a number of Buenos Ayres cadets, and exhorting them to diligence in their military studies, as it could not be long before they would be called upon to lead their men across the Andes!

For our own part we maintain, as we have done all along, that the Argentine Republic has no reasonable pretext for going to war with us, but nothing is more calculated to disturb the peaceful relations now existing between the two countries than these accusations of breach of good faith.

For once justice has been expeditious in Chile; the scoundrels who committed the San Juan robberies with violence, the details of which will be fresh in our readers' minds, will receive their deserte, an outraged society is to be avenged and the law vindicated. Belisario Roldan and Juan de D. Herrera, the leaders of the outrages, are each to receive 100 lashes and 5 years' imprisonment. Epifanio Jofré, who was also implicated in this business, has been sentenced to death for having committed no less than ten murders and will shortly be executed, the Supreme Authority having on appeal refused to reverse the decision of the Court.

MAILS FROM BRAZIL.

Rio Janeyro, Nov. 8th.

By Royal Mail steamer Thames, sailing to-day for River Plate, a team of Rio and S. Paulo cricketers proceed to try conclusion with the "silver-edged boys." The programme includes matches on the 14th and 15th with the Montevideans, on the 16th and 17th, at Buenos Ayres, with the Rosario club, and on the 18th and 19th with the Buenos Ayres club. The laurel-seekers from Rio are: Messrs. Youle, Morrisy, Waddbook, Keary, Needham, Jones, Webb, P. Morrissy, Murray and Messrs. Bryant and Kennedy, of S. Paulo. A veteran captain goes along to keep the boys in order, and our special reporter will accompany them to see that their victories are fully and properly recorded.

The promise made by Vice-President Floriano Peixoto some time ago to visit the Strangers' Hospital, was carried into effect on Saturday last, the illustrious visitor being accompanied by the minister of interior, the acting inspector-general of hygiene, and an aid. The visit was wholly informal, and was made without warning, by which means the Vice-President was able to see exactly what is being done. After spending two hours in examining the buildings and grounds, under the guidance of Mr. Benest, of the building committee, and Mr. Callander, the supervising engineer and architect, the visitors expressed themselves thoroughly satisfied with the site and the sanitary conditions of the place, as well as with the plans for the buildings and dependencies which the association proposes to carry out as speedily as possible. The beds, furniture and accessories also elicited their hearty commendation. Within a very short time the Strangers' Hospital will be opened, and will, we trust, win a prominent position among the hospitals of this city.

The president of Rio Grande has telegraphed to Dr. Julio de Castilhos in this city a copy of alleged intercepted letters of Facundo Tavares. According to these letters General Tavares was to enter the state on the frontier and advance rapidly into the interior so as to prevent the Castilhistas from assembling, while at Porto Alegre Facundo, Barreto, Leite and Visconde de Pelotas were to head the revolutionary movement in the northern part of the state. The letters are addressed to Nery Portinho, whom Facundo asks to hasten the movement in event of his being arrested. He had already being informed that orders had been issued for his arrest.

It is also said that Gen Floriano Peixoto has sent a congratulatory telegram to Dr. Fernando Abbot, Governor of the State, and secret instructions to Gen. Pego to aid the Castilhistas with the federal troops.

Mr. Frederic Haensel, a prominent member of the German-Brazilian colony of Rio Grande do Sul, who was shot when resisting arrest a few days since, died on the 5th. He was highly esteemed in Rio Grande and was worth the whole rabble of the demagogues and cutthroats who are now trying to govern that state.—Rio Nems.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

THE RAISING OF THE RATE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Oct. 21st

The raising of the bank rate to 3 per cent was no surprise and higher rates are looked for, and even with a certain amount of pleasure. A better business is anticipated on the stock exchange. It would not be easy to explain this paradox, were it not that apart from the drain of gold from the Bank of England, high rates mean more general demand and that, in its turn, means a renewab of confidence. For months past the deposits in the outside banks have been useless to the establishments themselves. On that account they have followed Mr. Lidderdale's advice in the letter but not in the spirit. Were any real demand for money to arise we should soon see the joint-stock cash reserves dwindling. To provide against the old danger of insufficient reserves it has been proposed that the Bank of England should publish weekly the surplus reserves which the clearing banks deposit with it over and above their minimum clearing balances; a scale or pooling rate to be agreed upon, the surplus reserve of each bank being according to its means or requirements. The aggregate would be about four millions. This arrangement would secure the interposition of a kind of first barrier against foreign demands for gold. Meanwhile one week's spurt that we have just had in the Stock Exchange has sensibly diminished the cash in the outside banks, and still, as the eager subscriptions for the Chilian and Transvaal loans show, there is somewhere an immense fund outside the banks, which can be drawn upon in an emergency. But it would not do to depend upon that unknown source. In the hour of crisis there must be some governing and organised institution like the Bank of England, to take the lead, and it should have some means, such as the one alluded to above, of commanding support from the joint-stock institutions.

Argentine securities continue weaker, but there is no material change in the market generally. The discount houses are following the lead of the Bank of England, which is not always the case, and are putting on the screw as tightly as they dare. This looks as if the Bank was right and has not raised its rates a bit too soon.

The Chilian, and one may add, the Baring Estate operators came in in the nick of time.

In regard to the claims of British subjects against the Chilian Government, Lord Rosebery writes to a correspondent to say that negotiations are in progress for the settlement of these claims by arbitration by a commission, but owing to the illness and death of Mr. Maude, Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires, at Santiago, there has been some delay. It is understood that several of the German and Italian claims have not been passed by the Chile officials.

* * * *

The Times and all of to-day's papers give reports of the ordinary meeting of the shareholders of the Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway. Mr. Frank Parish presided. He congratulated the meeting on the improved position of affairs in the Argentine, and on the skill of the local manager, Mr. Barrow, in obtaining so large a diminution of expenditure, a feat under the circumstances worthy of those "scientific principles" upon which, according to the testimony of an eminent British engineer, Sir Alexander Rendle, the Great Southern Railway of Buenos Ayres was conducted.

You will be pleased to hear that before the next general meeting of the Great Southern takes place, Mr. Frank Parish, attended by Mr. C. O. Barker, to whose knowledge and experience, as Mr. Parish said, they were all so much indebted, will pay you another visit. The motion, referring to extensions and other matters, was seconded by Mr. John Fair, and long may these grand old names be associated with Argentine undertakings. On the motion of the chairman a resolution was also passed sending from the company a message of congratulation and good will to Dr. Saenz Peña, on his installation as President of the Argentine Republic. Mr. Parish, in the course of his speech had, like Mr. Drabble, already spoken in high terms of the members of Dr. Peña's cabinet severally, and amongst others of Dr. Romero. He also said—"he trusted that the Finance Minister might also be assisted on this side by an old friend of theirs, Dr. Plaza."

From telegrams received to-day it seems that changes had already taken place in the composition of the Cabinet. That is a bad sign. It looks as if Dr. Pena's choice of ministers was a little in advance of the moral status of the country.

This being Friday, I have not the advantage of the weekly journals to make up a financial review, and have besides just exhausted my resources by the French mail. General dullness and uneventfulness are the prevailing characteristics in London to-day. The weather is cold and showery.

Mr. Chamberlain is about to expound his views on the Labour Question in the "19th Century" of next month. The article is looked forward to as a new political program. We all understand that Mr. Chamberlain's game was to outbid Mr. Gladstone in socialist measures; but if Mr. Chamberlain's ideas are limited, as I suspect they, are to old age pensions, eight hours a day work, and councils of arbitration he will soon be outbidden by others, if not by Mr. Gladstone.

The Dublin Gazette publishes the names of Mr. Morley's new Commissioners for the investigation of the evicted tenants question. The Times attacks furiously both the names and the instructions given. It says none of the men appointed will, with the exception of Judge Matthew, be acceptable to the landlords, and that no instructions are given to the Commissioners to expose the reasons for tenants not paying their rents when in many cases they were well able to do so. The Times is so mad on property rights, inspired as it is on that question by an otherwise most estimable person, Mr. John Walter, that even Unionist papers ridicule its opinions. The Commission is allowed to be fairly constituted, and the instructions are all that could be practically required. The names you may have received by telegram, but in case you have not I give them. They are: Sir James Charles Mathew, Knight, a Judge of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice in England; Christopher T. Reddington Esq., D.L.; John Roche Esq., one of Her Majesty's Counsel learned in the Law; Edmund Murphy Esq., and Morrogh O'Brien Esq. The duties of the Commissioners are briefly to find out the number of evicted tenants since 1879 and what means can be adopted to reinstate them in their holdings.

Argentines still look upwards on the Stock Exchange.

FARMING IN PARAGUAY.

Asuncion, Nov. 13th

Mr. Editor—

Permit me through your columns to give a slight sketch of what can be produced in this country at a profit; also the capital required and the cost of maintenance of a family for one year.

I will give the pre-eminence to sugar cane and to the class known as Tucuman, as it is of luxuriant growth and easy cultivation. In its early stage it needs to be hoed twice, and in gathering the only implement used is the "machete" (large knife). The great secret in securing a good crop is to cut it a little below the surface, the cane being easier to clean by hand, after which the refuse can be burnt on the ground without the least injury to the plants, the sprouts grow again after the first rain very rapidly, giving no room or chance to weeds, owing to the dense growth and great strength of the shoots. The yield per square of 100 varas may be estimated at 150 "asumbres de miel" (molasses) or about 40 tons of sugar-cane to the square. The "asumbre de miel" sells readily at $5.50 and has been sold as high as $6.20, but we will take the former as a fair average price. The entire yield per square is $875, after deducting $200 for actual expenses leaves the producer a net profit of $475 per square on the first year's crop, the second crop will increase 25 % and a still further increase may be looked for with the third, at which point it will remain until the 6th year, when it begins to shew a deterioration, although it may pay to work it for 2 or 3 years more, when it will have to be rooted up and resown; this can only be done when the land has been heavily timbered and even then does not always pay. The land will also produce good crops of maize, mandioca, beans, cotton and various other vegetables for a period of five years, after which it will be best to let it lie fallow and use it as a pasturage.

Ramie.—This well-known plant needs very little mention as you are already acquainted with it and its value. Recently Mr. G. Smith has purchased 2 leagues near Villa Rica for the cultivation of this plant, and at the present date of writing has twenty squares prepared, he is expecting by one of the first steamers to arrive five hundred thousand plants. He calculates about 15,000 to 18,000 plants per hectare and a crop of six cuttings per annum with a net profit of $600, being the same as in the Argentine. This data has been compiled from an article which appeared in the Republica: Oranges, lemons, bananas, pine apples, grapes, tomatoes, coffee, tobacco etc. This being a semi-tropical climate and much earlier than Buenos Ayres, gives Paraguay a good market at top prices for its fruits, of which it is capable of producing an almost inexhaustible supply, especially oranges for which Mr. Aldano is always ready to contract. Oranges here to-day are selling at $10 a 1,000 with a strong market and an upward tendency. A well preserved tree of 8 years will yield 3,000 oranges which are sold during the first two or three months from $3 to $3.50 per 1000. It is generally the best policy to strip the trees early when the fruit is still a trifle green, as it insures a larger crop the next year.

Bananas.—This plant is very prolific and yields a fruit that finds a ready market. An average bunch sells at from $2 to $2.50, the Brazilian being the choicest selection. The plant in its early stages cost from 50 to 60 cents, and will give during the first year about 10 shoots.

Pine apples (Brazil).—Are being cultivated more and more every year and are a steady source of income to the producer. The plants are sold at from 10 to 15 cents and fruit from $1 to $1.50; several growers in Patirio-cué have been distilling an excellent rum from this fruit, a business which if carried out on a large scale would find a ready market.

Lemons.—(Sicilian) thrive if anything better than the orange and are in great demand in Buenos Ayres; the trees bear fruit after the fourth year.

Grapes.—This is undoubtedly the country for this luscious fruit, since the time of the Jesuits they have not been cultivated to any great extent, but I am happy to say that at last the inhabitants are beginning to have their eyes opened in regard to this fruit, and at an early date Paraguay will be unexcelled for its grapes.

Coffee.—Although requiring a great deal of care and attention during the first three years owing to frosts and insects, it is well worth the attention of the agriculturist. The Coffee of Paraguay will rank with the best, and it is in close conjunction with the greatest coffee producing country in South America. The bean is small and when well prepared is a most delicious drink.

Tobacco.—This is undoubtedly the chief product of this country next to the "yerba" and has been a very paying crop up to within the last year; but now, since the Argentine Republic has increased the import duties, I am afraid but very few have found it a paying business—certainly not the grower, and until a European or other market is found the cultivator will not benefit his banking account.

Of the yerba it is unnecessary to speak, as all know that this country produces and ships enormous quantities.

Capital.—Now comes the question of ways and means. In the first place, it has not been my intention in writing to address myself to large capitalists, as I do not think the country ripe enough for them yet: let the smaller fry come first and the sharks will follow. The class of people that this country would suit are married men and their families, who intend to work, not the class that Paraguay has for years received, who have no idea of work or agriculture, and, as a natural consequence, died of disease or starvation, or attempted to live on the labours of their fellow-creatures. A man of the right kind with a capital of from $3000 to $4000 Argentine, which would enable him to buy a small chacra of from 16 to 20 squares near Asuncion, or where there is river communication with the capital, as I do not think he will do so well in the interior of the country, as freights and difficulty of transport generally eat up all profits. But let him apply to some of the Colonies already established or in course of formation, and I feel sure the owners or promoters will be only too glad to assist him and furnish all the information in their power. I for my part would be most happy to receive a few families in the Colony of which I am the administrator, concerning which full particulars can be obtained from Mr. S. Ker Jordan, Calle San Martin 186, Buenos Ayres. Our lands are all "Monte" and cost to clear off the timber from $100 to $120 per square of 100 vrs. that is to say that the contractor has to fell the trees, cut them into lengths of from 1 to 1½ varas and burn the refuse, of course this does not include stumping, which would be very expensive and is really unnecessary, as they rot off within 2 or 3 years. Of the best timber fire-wood is made at a cost of from $10 to $12 per 1,000 and is readily sold at from $20 to $25 per 1,000. the remainder is made into charcoal by the colonists themselves and sells in the colony itself at $20 per 1,000 kilos; those colonists who own carts and cart the charcoal into Asuncion sell it from 40 to 45 cents the arrb. One square of Monte will produce from 3,000 to 4,000 rajas and from 4,000 to 5,000 kilos of charcoal, this in nearly every case leaving a small profit in each square cleared.

The expenses of living for a small family of from 4 to 5 persons, all not being adults, may be calculated at $60 a month, but this need not extend over a period of more than four months from the time of starting in the colony, by which time the colonist if industrious should be able to provde for his family from the proceeds derived from the sale of firewood and charcoal.

C. T. M. J.

LATEST FROM PARAGUAY.

Asuncion, Nov. 13th.

You will observe from "La Democracia" which I send you that Mr. White, manager of the Railway, has got himself into a pickle by threatening to cut the rails of the narrow-gauge tramway, lay down a siding into the Trinidad Tablada and bring the beef in by trains to the Central Market. Mr. White is said to be also Mr. Ogilvie's representative, and Mr. O. is owner of the Villa Morra tramway, the other and competing line.

Postage stamps 2 dollars each. Exchange 600 %.

The Austrian Consul is quite mistaken in asserting that exchange had fallen from 700 to 500. It has fallen from 650 to 600 during the last three and four months.

THE BATEMAN LEGACY.

IMPORTANT LETTER OF MR. FOWLER.

383 Piedad,
November 16th

Mr. Editor,—

The classical motto of Cicero "Nil falsi audeam, nil veri non audeam dicere," with which you head your valuable paper and which for many years has been supposed to guide you in your "Editorials" has, I regret to say, not accompanied you, or has been lost sight of in one of your leaders of your edition of Sunday last.

I refer to your article on "The Bateman Legacy," under which you have a sub-heading, "Tricks of the Company," with which you have been pleased to characterize the action of the Waterworks Company in seeking only to recover its just and legitimate outstandings.

In order that your remarks may not mislead the public and create erroneous impressions with regard to this affair (the collection of water rates in arrears), which at the present moment is submitted to arbitrators, I will, with your permission, quote Art. 14 of the rescission contract made between the Argentine National Government and the aforementioned Company, which is as under:—

Art. 14.—"All rates payable for water supply and drainage from the date of delivery of the General Bond as hereinmentioned shall be collected by the Government, who shall pay all outgoings as from that date, and shall pay the Company in lieu of net receipts a sum at the rate of £5,000 per month for the period of time between such delivery of the general Bond and the 1st July 1892. The rights of the Company to payment for the supply of water and drainage to the date of the said delivery of the General Bond being reserved to the Company."

As regards the power of attorney granted by the Company to its legal representative "not containing a word about collecting the arrears," I will quote an article of same which gives power "To claim, demand, recover, and receive, giving receipts in full for all the rates payable for water supply and drainage due prior to the 1st of July 1891, and which might not have been collected and paid at the present date."

I feel sure your comments have not been made with a desire or intention to injure or prejudge a question which is at the present moment "sub judice" before a Court of Arbitrators, and I therefore trust you will kindly make the "amende honorable" which the case manifestly requires.

I am, dear Sir,
Yours faithfully
Thomas B. Fowler,
Legal Representative of the Buenos Ayres Water Supply and Drainage Co. Ltd.

Ed. Note. We published no article on the above subject, but gave Dr. Garcia Merou's statement. We made no comments, unless the sub-heading could be so considered, and we removed it when Mr. Fowler complained of it. Therefore we see no necessity for an apology. Meantime we recommend Mr. Fowler to read the comments of the Financial News, received yesterday from London, which we refrain from publishing, as the case is before arbitrators.

THE PARAGUAYAN DEBT.

(From the "Democracia" of Asuncion.)

Let us look into this matter briefly, taking some points from the Buenos Ayres STANDARD, from which we reproduced an article on 28th ult. on the finances of Paraguay.

The opinions set forth in that article are worthy of consideration, referring as they do to the future of the country economically and financially.

The STANDARD shews that we owe £850,000 of debt, with £25,000 interest and says that nobody can pity the holders of that debt seeing that they bought it giving only £6 or £7 per every £100 of stock, that the Bondholders received in addition to that stock 4,000 sq. miles of land, and that they ought to consider themselves well paid.

If this is a genuine exposition of the truth, and we have not yet seen it contradicted, it speaks volumes in favor of the resolution of the Chamber of Deputies when they threw out the project of law sent to them by the Executive.

It was the general opinion here at the time that the service of the debt ought to be met, which no doubt would have been done had the debt not been included in the Railway proposal; but news received since the project was thrown out shew the necessity of much prudence in treating of it.

The Bondholders received 4,000 sq. miles of land, which the Paraguayan Land Co. is supposed to be working. But they have done nothing; these lands are altogether abandoned. Out of the Debenture stock they bought 16 leagues of land at the river Bermejo in Argentine territory to serve as the Directors stated as a half way house for colonists on the way to Paraguay.

The STANDARD's article calls attention to two points: 1st what it says about the bondholders may be very true, but so far as we are concerned there is no remedy possible in view of the arrangement of 1886; and what it says about the Railway confirms all that appeared in this paper on the subject as well as the discussions in Congress.

And, in further reference to this matter it is proper for us to repeat that the refusal of Congress was very opportune, and that the Legislative body ought to insist upon the fulfilment of the Railway contract. It should be insisted upon, we aver, for many believe that the matter will be brought up again when Congress meets.

We shall shortly have important news from London of the position taken by the shareholders at the next General Meeting; in view of the investigations in Congress, and of the repugnance caused, from the beginning, to the public opinion of this country, by the famous contract "ad-referendum" between the Executive and the Company, which amounted to the great prejudice of the shareholders of the Railway and favours the holders of the Debenture stock; or, as the STANDARD puts it, the ordinary and Preference shares of £210,000 belonging to the Government would be confiscated and the Railway delivered over to the holders of the Debentures.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The heat, the convulsions of the Gold Eagle and the weekly drawing of the Lottery kept all classes in a state of excitement yesterday. On the Bolsa the scene was extraordinary, and the dense flocks of fresh guttersnipes and lame-duck-lucking customers that turned up fairly astonished the brokers. Such was the fierce excitement as the Gold Eagle fell on the broad of his back at 70 that some people of quick hearing declared that our London friends were quaffing goblets of the "glorious vintage of Champagne" to the fall in the gold premium, and that they could hear the popping of the corks. Perhaps they could. The whole ambient of the Bolsa smelt of scorched Bull yesterday.

The Senate held an hour's secret sitting yesterday, and it would be a breach of privilege to say a word about it. We never break either privileges or promises.

We have to thank Messrs. Galli Bros. for papers from England.

We feel much pleasure in saluting our distinguished colleague Mr. Lamoureux, of the Rio News, who has come down with his cricketing countrymen. We wish him and them a pleasant time of it here.

Belgrano people who like bad groceries had better keep away from the English Grocery there at the corner of 25 de Mayo and Rivadavia, as they won't find what they want there.

We thank Dr. Bernabe Lainez, Director General of the Schools of the Province, for his kind invitation to the inauguration of the schools of the Hornos section on Sunday next.

The Centro de Comercio will shortly be installed in the premises which they have taken in Calle Piedad between San Martin and Florida; all yesterday the street was blocked by numberless carts loaded with the elegant furniture which has been purchased by the Committee from Messrs H. C. Thompson and Co. of Calle Artes. We understand that the entire contract for furniture has been entrusted to this firm, and indeed the Club could not well have done better, for Messrs. Thompson have shewn what they are capable of in the case of the Jockey Club and the Cosmos Club, and the good quality and solidity of their furniture is almost proverbial.

We have great pleasure in stating that the handsome furniture for the 2nd act of "Ours" has been kindly lent by "La Exposicion Inglesa", Messrs. John Green & Co., who have once more shewn how willing they are to help a charitable cause.

The programme to-night at the San Martin is t. t.: first act of the Petit Duc, 2nd act of Carmen and 2nd act of Rigoletto with Tetrazzini as Gilda. The performance is for the benefit of the active and popular Secretary, Mr. Paul Haimes, who may rest assured that the house will be crammed to the very ceiling. Most of the boxes have been taken already by leading families anxious to hear Mlle. Tetrazzini sing in the difficult role of Gilda. Mdme. Paoli Bonazzio will take the title-role in Carmen.

We salute Professor Comendatore Roberth, of Milan, who has just arrived and will appear next Thursday night at the Odeon Theatre in a thought and character reading and hypnotising seance. The Comendatore is a celebrity in Europe and has gold medals and diplomas by the dozen from European scientific societies.

At the entertainment at the American Church on Wednesday the audience did not appear to quite understand the arrangements and the lack of chairs in the central hall. However, that was speedily rectified and all went morrily. The concert part of the programme, as we need hardly mention, was a success; the refreshment part more so. Mr. and Mrs. Owen's pianoforte duets were admirably played, as also were the violin solos by Prof. E. Pini. Miss S. Lee, for her song, "The song that reached my heart," with a violin obligato by Prof. Pini, obtained a well-deserved encore, as also did Miss Nicholson for Tosti's "At the Convent Gate." Mrs. Showler was much applauded for her pretty song "Love's Proving," while Miss Pope sang very nicely. The selling of refreshments was certainly a happy thought, and the ladies deserve the hearty thanks of the church and public for their gallant efforts. The "patios" and hall were prettily decorated, but we would suggest that in the event of a repetition the committee should be strict from the opening on the question of moving about during the singing.

We very much regret to hear that, owing to the death of Don Pedro Robson, Mrs. H. S. Robson will be unable to take the part of Blanche for which she was so excellently fitted in every way, but we are pleased to add that Miss Foster, in the most kind and plucky manner, has come forward to supply the part at a moment's notice, so that the play will be produced on the 28th inst. as originally announced.

We rise, take off our hat, and say: That our friends the Zoos will have a benefit performance at that nice little theatre, the Doria, in Calle Rivadavia, to-morrow night: That they deserve an overflowing bumper from citizens of all nationalities, as, in addition to having put an end to the revolting cruelty to animals that was an open disgrace to this city a few years ago, they daily hand over all the fines obtained through their humane work to public charity: That the public thus owe the Zoos a double debt which they can partly pay to-morrow night by attending the performance in the Doria Theatre, the programme of which is of the most varied and attractive kind.

Scribbler: "I lent the editor my umbrella a few days ago, as he forgot his, and it looked like rain." Tomson: "Has he returned it yet?" Scribbler (sadly): "No, but he will; he returns everything of mine."

At a recent school examination, one of the girls made the following surprising assertion:—"If a man lives without food for a considerable time, say sixty days, he will die at the end of the month; or, if the constitution is delicate, he may only live for a week or less."

The Montevidean papers are a trifle dull just now. President Herrera is said to be preparing another 'public document,' but what it is about is as yet as great a mystery as the defunct loan. No white President on earth can hold a candle to Dr. Herrera in the prolific production of public documents. One of our across-the-river contemporaries gives the following bit of sporting news—"A Brazilian sportsman has offered £2,000 for the well-known horse "Express" of the Stud Latino. The offer has been rejected as his proprietor, Don Juan Carrara, intends to take him to Rio Janeiro next year. The Stud Charrua has also refused an offer of £1,500 for the splendid mare "Donnina," winner of the "Premio de Honor".."

Women's Rights are coming South. Six young Montevidean girls have just passed their first year's examination for a Bachelor's degree. Far better for them if they could manage to pass an examination in domestic economy, and they would have a greater chance of inducing some bachelors to confer on them a matrimonial degree, the proper kind of degree for all young women.

On Wednesday night there was an interesting seance in the Fencing School of Mr. Jose Corso in Calle Rivadavia. The attraction of the evening was Miss Garetti, who, by indulging in fencing has become a robust girl with a splendid figure, whereas, before she began it she was as thin as a whipping post. She is a splendid fencer and will appear at the performance in the Odeon Theatre on the 23rd inst.

That confounded Martin Garcia channel should be treated as Hell Gate at New York was. The merchants say that all the delay and bother it causes by vessels going aground etc., will cost the country this year $2.50 gold extra on every ton of wheat exported.

There was an interesting sight in Piedad Church yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, when all the Generals who compose the court-martial to try Colonel Facio and Major Peredo attended a Mass of the Holy Ghost, celebrated by the Chaplain-General of the Army.

What's this we hear? "Steamship sherry;" an imitation of the genuine "vino de Jerez," which is manufactured at Cadiz and sold to steamship companies at the astonishingly low price of 9 cents a quart! No less an authority than the British consul at Cadiz was given an opportunity to test this manufactured wine by a Spanish merchant who enjoyed a quiet laugh at the consul's expense, for the latter, not being at first informed of the imitation, gravely declared, after testing, that the 9-cent sherry was better than a genuine wine sold at £250 a butt! The London Times declares that genuine sherry is becoming a scarce article, although sherry manufactured in Holland from potatoes seems to suit the English palate very well. Oh! Gemini! Potatoe sherry good enough for English palates; and a British Consul bearing the most practical and convincing testimony to the hard and heart-rending fact!!! It's awful.

"Si monumentum queris." When Lord Mayor Bollini took office two years ago the hard or rather soft cash in the city till amounted to seventeen paper dollars. When he handed

ON 'CHANGE.
Thursday, November 17th 1892.
Gold Premium.
First Ring..... 178.00%
Second Ring..... 179.00%
All sorts and conditions of men congregated on'Change to-day. It was a sight to watch the new countenances peering at the black board. Italians and Spaniards mustered in strong numbers. The hall was crowded to suffocation and it was with much difficulty that brokers managed to get through the throng of anxious and feverish members. The "habitues" of the hall rubbed their eyes as they watched the invasion of strange elements and were amused to see the rush into the brokers' precincts as the bell rang the close of the ring. These outsiders formed a strange, perspiring lot, and as a rule they looked anxious and perplexed at the terrible "degringolade" in the premium. We should say that the majority were "almaceneros" caught in with comparatively heavy stocks of estables and drinkables, if the premium goes to 150%, these men may be considered doomed, for others will step in and undersell them, which would be a great boon to the public. All prices of necessaries of life should be now twenty per cent cheaper, and if the "almaceneros" do not reduce their prices others will enter the business and do it.
The excitement on'Change this morning was unprecedented; the crowd hung in clusters round the pillars and Sales of gold for end of year were made yesterday evening as low as 263, and one lot for end of January at 260. All the brokers are making money in the fall of gold; we know of one who bought back to-day 500,000 which he had previously sold at from 320 to 297. As usual the parties who were too cautious and secured gold last week when the fall began are the heavy losers.

Mr. James M. Dobson, of Messrs. Hawkshaw and Hayter, was welcomed to-day on his return from England in R.M.S. Thames, after an absence of four months. Mr. Dobson returns to the Plate to find it in the midst of a great revival, nowhere more powerfully reflected than in the docks, warehouses, and sheds he has built under the Madero contract. At the present moment the eight large sheds and the four big warehouses are overflowing with produce and goods: last month was the busiest ever witnessed in the docks, the tonnage and number of entries and departures beating all previous records. Only eighteen months ago these docks were deserted and the warehouses were empty: then many thought the works too big for Buenos Ayres and a generation ahead of local requirements. To-day we are getting convinced that the port works must be finished immediately to meet the demands of shipping and trade. Such is the accumulation of goods that the Lanus and Catalinas deposits are deficient under the extraordinary pressure of the moment. We may add that if the Catalinas Company are catering for storage, the Board of Management might at least provide sufficient rolling-stock to remove the cargoes of steamers. Here we see the Company taking charge of steamers and running short of engines and waggons to carry the merchandise: the result is serious loss and delay to the steamer companies. The steamer agents are already complaining in the columns of the press, and several instances of scandalous delays owing to shortage of rolling-stock have been published: the steamers Caffaro, Ortegal and others are cases in point. We think that the Catalinas Company might do something to meet the requirements the Board of Almacenes seems so anxious to secure. More engines, more waggons, are required.

In connection with the triumph of the Democrats in the States and the telegrams announcing that all duties on wool will be removed from the American tariff, we may call attention to Don Carlos Lix Klett's very sensible letter to a leading colleague on the state of the wool market. In that letter, under date 10th inst., Mr. Lix Klett calls notice to the fact that the defeat of the Republicans in the States entails a thorough change in the status of the woot market, owing to the impending repeal of the Mackinlay tariff. Foreseeing a great reduction in a repeal of the American wool duties, Mr. Lix Klett urges the Argentine Government to spare no sacrifice in making a grand display of wools at the Chicago exhibition, as America must become a great consumer of Argentine wools. Our friend lays special stress upon this subject and states that wools from Corrientes, Mendoza, San Juan and Cordoba should figure prominently in the Argentine display of the staple; he thinks it also highly advisable to send live sheep, that the American manufacturers may judge our wools in every detail and compare them with the staple of other nations. In this respect, Mr. Lix Klett reminds the government that when he was at the head of the Produce Museum of the Plaza Once de Setiembre he made a complete collection and classification of Arg wools, which through Minister Hanna was presented to the President of the United States; that collection is at present deposited in perfect condition in one of the principal museums of Washington. This reminder of Mr. Lix-Klett is of value to the Government and to the Argentine Committee of the Chicago Exhibition, of which Mr. Lix-Klett was such a conspicuous and indefatigable member. The importance of the change of Government in the States cannot be overestimated, and Mr. Lix-Klett is right in calling attention to the opportunity of seizing the ball on the hop and of reopening the American market to Argentine wools; then we shall see the familiar stars and stripes flying in our roads as they did many years ago, before the wool duties were voted and the Argentine wool trade with the States was knocked on the head.

There is a suspicion in the market that our London friends deserve the lion's share in the bearish campaign that has hurled gold from 313 to 270 in the last two or three weeks. The surmise is all the more plausible, as the London capitalists are the chief parties interested in a steady and heavy fall in gold. Should these suspicions be confirmed, there can be no doubt that the bearish contingent from London will enable local speculators, dealers and capitalists here, to drive gold down under 150%, which seems the desideratum of the moment. It would be folly, however, to upset the whole market for such a purpose: the object in view could be secured in a far less violent manner than that experienced in the last six days. Let our London friends now rest on their oars awhile and return to the attack in December: give the market breathing time to get over the effects of the present fall, and prepare the road for a steady and less panicky decline in the premium. Telegrams from London state that the fall in the gold premium has created joy and hope in the money circles of the great stock-market, and that Argentina is again getting into fair repute after two years' cruel snubbing for her incautious behaviour in the days of boom.

The exchange market ruled dull and weak all day at 47¼d. on London and francs on Paris at par. Discounts continued very easy. The cheques of the State banks were quoted at yesterday's prices, also the Bonos of the La Plata Mortgage Bank.

The gold market ruled very steady at the second ring, and the premium advanced slightly. Heavy covering operations were the order of the day. About eight hundred thousaud gold dollars were sold, the premium closing at 179% for to-morrow, 178.50% for the end of the month, and 177% for the end of December. There were moments in the afternoon when the premium looked hard at 180% both for to-morrow and the end of the month, but the speculation slackened and the closing rates looked heavy. Stocks and shares were dull and neglected.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the second ring to-day:—

Consignees and buyers complain bitterly of the delays in unloading produce both at the Plaza Constitucion and the Central Produce Market. The delays arise from false economy, for the personnel engaged is far too small for the requirements of the market, more especially at the present moment when the busy season is getting into full swing. The goods' trains from the North and West, which are unloaded in the new shed in the Plaza Constitucion, are the chief cause of complaint, as the goods and produce are all mixed up; there is much disorder, and there is little or no room for walking about or classifying. In the Central Produce Market, at least, there is ample space and some classification can be arrived at. We hope the complaints of the consignees will reach the ears of those whom it may concern.

Operations in wool continued on a heavy scale this morning in both produce markets. In spite of the fall in gold, so called fine wools fetched high and steady prices: extra qualities changed hands at 8 and 9$ per 10 kilos; good wools command 7 to 7.50$, South quality; those from the West range from 6 to 7.50 for special qualities; inferior and middling qualities are neglected. The above prices show a steady wool market in spite of the "degringolade" in gold. Advices from Europe are also more satisfactory, telegrams received to-day announce a firm and rising wool market.

Mr. Bellocq sold this morning a fine wool from the South at 8$ per 10 kilos. Messrs. Devoto, Balbiani and Co. sold a good parcel from La Gama station at 7.50$, considered a very good sale. The same firm sold this morning 1100 epidermis ox-hides at 5.70$ per 10 kilos and a lot of 5000 bags of maize, for export, in the Central Produce Market, at 5.40$ per 100 kilos, Mo ocho quality.

Sheepskins and hides fell again today. Lamb-skins are also falling.

Consignees believe that the wool business will continue active if the gold level remains at to-day's quotation.

Telegrams from New York state that one of the first radical measures of the new Democratic Government will be the repeal of all duties on wool. This is good news for River Plate sheep-farmers.

The Inspector-General, in a report to Government, states that it is not advisable to build a station at Potronillo on the Transandine Railway.

The local Board of the Argentine North Western have informed Government that the section from Monte-Caseros to Paso de los Libres is now ready for traffic. The Board propose to open the section on 15th prox.

The Contaduria General have advised Government to annul the concession for a railway from Goya to Lucero and to enforce the fine to which the concessionaire has made himself liable.

"At the meeting of the shareholders of the Credito Real Uruguayo, on Monday, the liquidation of that institution was unanimously determined upon. The following Liquidating Committee was appointed.—Sres. A. Morales, Dr. F. Durá, J. B. Goyret, Dr. A. Rodriguez Larreta, E. Z. O'Neill. Substitutes, Dr. A. Artagaveytia, E. Ponce de Leon, A. People who sold gold during the last year and bought city and camp properties are now making splendid profits by the business. Some large purchases of city property made during the last 6 months were spoken of on 'Change as some of the best operations in the market.

Gold seems to be coming to the Plate from every quarter now. We heard on 'Change of gold coming from Montevideo and even from Genoa, where the people are in wild delight at the news from Buenos Ayres.

The Gas Companies, Almaceneros and Railway Companies are all called on to put down their prices, and we have no doubt they all will; the freight on produce must of course be at once reduced

Mr. Temple, Manager of the London and River Plate Bank in London, has wonderfully recovered his health since he arrived in the Plate; he returns to London by Royal Mail Steamer on Wednesday, and on Monday purposes visiting La Plata.

Mr. Andrew Wagner C. E. took leave of his numerous friends to-day. He left in the river steamer for Montevideo, where he will take the Regina Margherita for Rio, whence he will proceed to the Chicago Exhibition. Mr. Wagner will act as our special correspondent in Chicago. We promise our readers a full and detailed description of the Great Fair.

The Provincial Bank paid off during the month of October $784,172 m/n to its depositors in "vales" or cheques which were sold in the market, and the deposit account of this bank now stands at $70,669,545 m/n which it owes its depositors, against $54,038,041, which the market in bills in its "cartera" owes the bank. Thus the balance due by the bank to the market is only 15½ millions, which is not very large after all, if we consider that it holds in bad debts $56,358,650 m/n in paper and $3,339,988 m/n in gold. Moreover, the Mortgage Bank and the Provincial Government owe the bank $22,738,290 m/n and $922,397 m/n in gold. If a company were formed to buy up from the bank all these debts, with the fiscal privileges which the bank has for their collection, the Bank might be put on its legs again; but then the hitch is the management: the bank in order to reopen its doors must be handed over to a new Board of Directors composed of city merchants, and all connection with La Plata and the Government must be cut off, otherwise the public will never put any confidence in the concern.

The Uruguay, Limited, is the name of a new company formed in London to carry on a lawsuit against the liquidators of the Baring estate for the fulfilment of their contract for the construction of the Colonia Railway. A long and difficult lawsuit is the sequence of this business, and the Montevidean Government has given powers to the company to represent it in the suit.

The Caja de Conversion very properly insists that the Cordoba Bank should burn its vales, notes, etc., here and not in Cordoba. The Governor of Cordoba complains that this is a slur on the good faith of the Bank and province, but the opinion is general that the Caja de Conversion is right in its demand.

The three new Directors of the Banco de la Nacion who resigned will, since the Minister refused to accept their resignation, take office; this, of course, will lead to their retirement from the boards of other banks and institutions of which they are members.

Dr. Magarinhos Cervantes, a very distinguished Oriental and one who figured in former years much in Montevidean politics, died yesterday. He was one of the few surviving members of the old school of Oriental politicians.

Mr. Meyer, who has just returned from Europe, was welcomed on 'Change.

Letters from Chivilcoy district report the crops out there looking splendid, and the locusts have not made their appearance.

The Central Produce Market is now doing a larger business than ever and no longer needs the help of the moratorium, which, at the request of the Company, has been rescinded. This is good news for the shareholders, who have required more patience than capital to carry the concern through the crisis.

It may interest many in this market to know that the Government of Chile is thinking of lighting up the Straits of Magellan with electricity, and the matter is before the Chilian Legislature. It would indeed be a novelty if this scheme were carried out.

To-day, at Dr. Bunge's office, the final arrangements were made for ceding the land to the Rio Negro Salt Co. for the making of their railway to San Blas. This is another step that shows the recovery of the country from the crisis, as the export of salt to India will be the next thing on the cards.

Mrs Pintos has brought an action against the Ensenada railway for $15,000$ for the loss of her mother, who was accidently killed last November, the La Plata train having run over her.

The Western railway must have earned a very large amount this week owing to the pilgrimage to Lujan. We have spoken with many of the pilgrims who assured us that the train service was splendid, and that, spite of the thousands of passengers, all were accommodated and nothing could be better than the management of this line.

The closure of a French pawn office in La Plata, known as the Gran Comptoir de Paris, by order of the judge of whom there has led to another great scandal. It seems that a judgment creditor got an "embargo" against the pawnbrokers, and when the bailiffs were put on, the birds had fled, taking with them all the pledged watches, rings, pins, diamond studs etc; all La Plata is in tears, and the crowd that gathered round the shop when the news spread suggested the very large number of persons in La Plata who had watches and other valuables pledged in the concern. The police are after the pawnbrokers, but the "embargo" amounts to nothing, as nothing is left.

News has been received from Genoa of the death of Mr. Agustin Canale, proprietor of the Café Aguila in this city. It is not very long since his brother died. The history of this celebrated confiteria, one of the best in town, is remarkable, and we published it at the time of the elder brother's death.

The pressure of cargo arriving is now so great that application is made to Government to put up more deposits at the Madero docks. This, after all, is not a good sign; the people in Europe are sending out too much merchandize We hear that in pine the arrivals are seven times the amount of last year; of course blue ruin will follow the cargoes, and pine is selling at 21% gold instead of 41, which about covers cost.

The La Plata Government has extended for 20 years the coal deposit concession at the port to Messrs Georges and Company. One of the principal conditions in the concession is that they must always have on hand a stock of ten thousand tons of coal, and the Government has the right to make them move into other quarters to be given by the Government should it be necessary.

La circunstancia de estar cerca del Rio Dulce, de su buena ubicacion tan proxima a las Estaciones Argentina y Malbran y de tener agua potable, favorecen mucho a estos campos por lo que reputamos infima la base de 2 pesos por la hectarea para vender.
